Microlearning Design

Purpose

Foster a meaningful, space for coalition facilitators to reflect on their current community prevention team's self-governance and incorporate aspects of agenda setting, logistic management, and participatory meeting practices to enhance facilitation capacity and thus increase effectiveness of coalition meetings.

This microlearning series is intended to support reflective asynchronous learning, reinforcing technical assistance delivered by ANDVSA. SPS designed, with input from CDVSA and ANDVSA, these microlearnings to enhance prevention practitioners' capacity and familiarity with techniques and best practices for coalition facilitation. This series will contain the following microlearning modules:

1. Meeting with Intention: Tips for Facilitating Coalitions [Published, 1/11/2023 @ 5:00 PM PST]
2. Building Buy In and Participation [Drafting, 2023]
3. Inclusive Engagement [Drafting, 2024]

Considerations for Meeting Intentionally [Published, 2023]

Source URL: https://youtu.be/_2wdAWfh0Tw

Are you looking for tips to help facilitate a coalition meeting? Are your community partners interested but need help figuring out how to start in their work together? We know a lot about the challenges and successes communities experience in building lasting, effective community coalitions – and we want to help support the conversation.

This is the first of a series of microlearnings created to support community coalitions, particularly those facilitating meetings or leading initiatives. This video highlights important characteristics and considerations for managing and facilitating effective meetings, as well as tips for supporting self-governance and planning as your group structures itself.
